This is a special occasion for the Oxford & Cambridge Musical Club.

Strauss' great late masterpiece, Metamorphosen: A study for 23 solo strings was performed earlier in the year by (almost) the above group of players, conducted by Alan Reddish. The Club President, Sir Neville Marriner, has agreed to give us a Master Class on this work. His wide experience as a conductor, particularly of string works, and especially of this one, promises to make this a memorable experience, for performers and audience alike.

It will be held in

The Lecture Theatre
(in the new Music School)
University College School
Frognaal, Hampstead

at

8 p.m, Wednesday, October 11 1995

There is space for an audience of about 50, which we hope will be fully occupied.
