ELECTRONIC KEYBOARD WORKSHOP

introduced by

MATTHEW CLEMENCE

This is a departure from our usual concert format. The Club has recently purchased a set of electronic equipment - keyboard, instrumental module, amplifier etc. - particularly to provide substitutes for the rarer orchestral instruments - harp, celeste etc. - in orchestral performances. The facilities it provides are rather wide-ranging, and some experience is needed in using it to the best effect.

Several club pianists / percussionists have already agreed to come along to be guided through its resources, and everyone is invited to join in learning what it can do, and trying it out.
